A meeting of the executive committee of the federated church was also held with the Rev. Joseph Hamilton as temporary moderator, when the following officers were elected: D. D. Howe, moderator for the year; secretary, H. B. Bell; music committee, Dr. Bailey, Ernest Hatch, John Hutchinson and H. B. Bell; nurses, Leon Dues and H. B. Mrs. and Mrs. Luther Wade who were sentenced to three months in the house of correction for stealing money from Frank Trask have been in town for a few days in confinement in the lockup, waiting the disposal of the children one of whom is five months and the other about two years old. A. H. Beedle, the overseer of the poor, was called in but claimed they did not belong here so no steps were taken to care for the children till Wednesday, when it became known among the people and Rev. Metzger pastor of the Bethany church found a place where they were cared for properly and clothing solicited for them, which was greatly needed in their neglected condition. Mrs. Wade, the mother of the children was sent to the workhouse and the father let out on probation with the privilege of earning enough for the support of the children. Randolph has seldom if ever seen so pitiful a case and the sight of the children would appeal to the strongest heart.

FRENZIED FINANCE

OF CHURCH WOMAN.

Church Leader Borrowed Large Sums on Eve of Disappearance.

Oneonta, N. Y., July 2.—Investigation of the affairs of Miss Caroline Andrews, president of the W. C. T. U., head of the Ladies' Aid society and prominent church worker, who disappeared on June 6, leaving debts of $20,000, increases the mystery in the case of frenzied finance. Miss Andrews was a cultured spinster, and on her story that she owned property worth at least $25,000, she secured loans of from $100 to $7,500 from prominent people in Oneonta. Many of her victims were women.

It was learned yesterday that as a result of loans amounting to $7,500 to Miss Andrews, Mrs. A. Wentworth, an elderly woman, faces bankruptcy. She declares that she will make good her indorsement of Miss Andrews' note, and has already placed a mortgage of $4,000 on her farm to make her first payment. Mrs. Wentworth, in spite of warnings given her by her husband while he lived, was induced by Miss Andrews to indorse her note.

Yesterday she told how she was induced to indorse the note. "When I told Miss Andrews that Mr. Wentworth had always warned me against indorsing notes she replied, 'Why, you know me. I am worth $25,000 and I will take up the note within a very short time,'" said Mrs. Wentworth.

"We made out the note for ten days and got the cash at the Wilbur National bank. When the note fell due, she said she hadn't used the money and got me to renew it. I kept up that process, and last fall the bank asked for more security."

"Mrs. Andrews, her sister-in-law, and Miss Hattie Andrews, the latter's daughter, then indorsed with me. Miss Andrews at that time told us she had bought a water-power plant somewhere in Connecticut with the money. I indorsed again and again for her, until the total amount reached $7,500."

"The $500 loan we secured from John Sigbee, a farmer. He said to her: 'I don't know you, Miss Andrews,' but his wife interrupted with 'That's all right, John; why, she's the president of our Ladies' Aid society.' Then he let her have the money."

"Some of the notes I signed were raised by her. That is, once she asked me to sign for $500, and then she made it $800. Another time she brought me a note for $400, telling me it was to reduce the Sigbee loan, but I found later it was an altogether new transaction."

Miss Helen Baker, another spinster, is said to have been a victim to the tune of $1,000, but her nephew heard of the transaction and forced Miss Andrews to give the money back.

R. W. Miller, a wealthy business man, was approached a few days before Miss Andrews went away, and was asked for $1,500. The interview was interrupted, and after thinking it over, Miller put her off.

POLICYHOLDERS WIN.

The $1,000,000 Fund Is Theirs, Not the Stockholders'.

Hartford, Conn., July 2.—Charles H. Dresser of this city, who has been prominent in the suit of certain policyholders of the Hartford Life Insurance company against the present management of the company, has received a letter from his counsel in the case, in which it is asserted that the decision of the Supreme court practically declares that the $1,000,000 safety fund belongs not to the stockholders of the insurance company, but to the surviving policyholders of the company.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back For an Old One—How It Is Done In Barre.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Barre citizen.

M. I. Spaulding, painter, living on Branch street, Barre, Vt., says: "I had more or less kidney trouble for five years, and think it was brought on by conditions which any man working at my trade is subject to. After a hard day's work there would be such an aching in my back that I could hardly sleep at all. Dark spots floated before my eyes at times and the action of the kidneys was plainly showed that my kidneys were disordered. The use of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at E. A. Brown's drug store, stopped the backache and corrected the kidney weakness so that the secretions were regulated and became natural in color."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
